DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "development interface" recited in claim 1 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). It is assumed that the "Application Interface" discussed on page 12 and the following pages is the "development interface" recited in the claims, but this is not depicted in the drawings. No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1

The objective recited in the preamble is to provide a "development interface."

The first step, recited in lines 2-5, provides an object definition structure for an object utilized by the application.

The last step, recited in lines 6-7, consists of updating the functional characteristics of the object.

It is not understood how creating an object and updating the functional characteristics of the object provide a development interface.

Appropriate correction and clarification is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fischer (6549946).

The rejection of claims 1-9 is made to the extent that the claims are understood by addressing key recited elements of the claims.

In figure 1 Fischer discloses a telecommunications routing network, which includes the ability of each client 123 to create objects and filter the objects prior to transmission to other clients. Fischer states in column 8 lines 57-67 "In the preferred embodiment of the present invention, signaling provider 193 is implemented as an object, that is both the creator of and a container of call filter object 230. Signaling provider 193 is thus a factory for call filter object 230. Through signaling provider 193, each client 123 creates call filter object 230. Call filter object 230 describes to signaling provider 193 how to filter (route, accept, or reject) incoming calls for client 123. Call filter object 230 represents a boolean expression that allows signaling provider 193 to compare the criteria in selector object 240 with incoming call establishment requests."

Fischer does not explicitly state that the second client is coupled to the first client, but it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that client A and client B are coupled in figure 1.

Relevant Prior Art

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Martin (6247017) discloses a server-client communication system over a network, which includes an LDA message format including an envelope containing common fields required in protocol exchanges with a search request which enables a client to initiate a search and defines: the base object in the directory with respect to which the search is to be performed; the scope of the search to be performed; an indication of how aliases are to be handled; a maximum search result size to be returned; a time-limit for the search; indication of which attributes are to be returned and whether attribute types and/or values are to be returned; and a filter defining match characteristics.

Golla (6587874) discloses a directory for installation of network devices where if a client needs some attributes that are not in well-known object class definitions, a new object class can be created as an extension of a similar object class, or an existing object class can be extended to encompass the attributes. The client can then work with any LDAP server, as long as the server has been given this new object class definition.

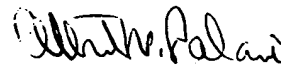

Estrada (6636889) discloses a file space model consisting of rooms made up of pages where by providing an interactive facility in QuickPlace for accepting and storing form data in an object store, which is a database or page, at the server, there is provided a way for a client at a browser to create forms which include a definition of where and how data should be stored, and which enables others to manipulate the form.
